Management Information System

Ergonomic-related injuries are the leading cause of workplace injuries in the U.S. In many instances, these injuries are often the most costly, resulting in high medical bills and time away from work.

Aon ErgoTracker is a client-facing, online tool designed to help risk and safety managers manage their ergonomic injury prevention process more effectively. ErgoTracker targets the TCOR (Total Cost Of Risk) element of retained losses and ergonomic process activities. With ErgoTracker, risk reduction tactics are documented and the information is linked to a variety of data points within the application, creating a dashboard approach that risk and safety leaders can use to quickly access comprehensive data sets. There are a variety of reports available (standard, customized, ad hoc) which are designed for use by risk managers, safety professionals, and client site leaders.

ErgoTracker is also a powerful benchmarking tool, enabling clients to compare and contrast risk reduction scores, solution implementation and initiative goals status, as well as loss data for multiple organizations or facilities within the system. Quick access to program data promotes collaboration, strategic and tactical planning among the assigned Aon consultants and the client's corporate and site users.

Easy-to-Use Interface with Advanced Functionality

ErgoTracker leverages the advanced – and award-winning – browser interface and functionality of Aon eSolutions RiskConsole. Users can easily manage their activities, processes and related program information all in one module. For risk and safety leaders who require advanced data features, ErgoTracker also offers a Premium module.

- Risk reduction tactics are documented and information is linked to a variety of data points within the application
- Basic module includes:
  - Loss History: at-a-glance review of losses
  - Evaluations / Solutions / Tasks
  - Goals / Quarterly Updates
  - Meeting Tracker
- Premium module includes:
  - Training repository
  - Design guidelines

An Innovative Tool for Safety Leaders

ErgoTracker's integrated platform provides the foundation for ergonomic assessments, conducted by either client staff or Aon consultants, enabling organizations to accurately implement and improve new or existing ergonomics strategies, ultimately resulting in a reduction in ergonomic exposures and costs. Clients can track assessment results, exposure reduction, MSD injury rates, and claim frequency and cost reduction within a single application. In addition, premium services are available for training, design guidelines and RiskConsole applications (customized applications and reporting).
